Spirits kinetic, vying tensely for laurels; at dusk, quietly retreating to the university crossroads to books, beer, or billiards as grey drapes the greenery.

L'allegro—the cheerful man, standing in the loneliness of a crowd, public in his private fealty as Old Glory is ushered to her crown—all prelude to a contest of colors.

Il Penseroso—the contemplative man, suspended mid the crowdiness of aloneness, on Today's banks, asking Life's questions, reflecting Tomorrow's responses.

Tulane Stadium—empty and light 'neath daystar's orange, 'til the hourglass fills with day and divergent interests converge to a full, and weighted Sugar Bowl—seeking a season of triumph.

A Vieux Carre courtyard, standing demure in its year-round setting, veiled from the passerby, chronicle to a colorful past.

"O frabjous day! Calooh, Calay!"
 Fat Tuesday, mirth, and krewes float down barricaded streets, over glass and tin, flinging trinkets and doubloons to the pressing throng's cry of "throw me something, Mister!"

A Tulane collage-imagination's respite from reality:
"Three Penny Opera"—the wealth that is drama, mirroring the terrestrial experience in masque.

Navy Cannon—comic relief from armed reality; architecture of our innocence.

Snoopy—backed by the Great Pumpkin, America's epic contribution to military history, by whom the Red Baron was vanquished.

"Sebastian" Ibis—object of odium, in the spirit of rivalry laid to rest November 5, 1966. RIP.

The campus, life's greenhouse, where we—directors of our own souls—nurture the spirit, broaden the mind, discipline our faculties, train our talents, learn to learn, grow, and take growth's secret with us.

Another, with whom we share this growth.

Thirsty, benches lie fallow on stone mosaic.

Scholars, faithful under torrents, treading teeming umbrella corridors, following beaten paths to appointed times.

And only yesterday we came running home announcing we had just learnt to tie our shoelaces.

The Tulane football team, under the driving leadership of first year head coach Jim Pittman, had a winning season for the first time in a decade. Throughout the season, the Green Wave played a hard-hitting, opportunistic brand of football and displayed a potent rushing attack, spearheaded by Bobby Duhon, Jim Trahan, and Pete Johns, that ranked high in national ground gaining statistics.

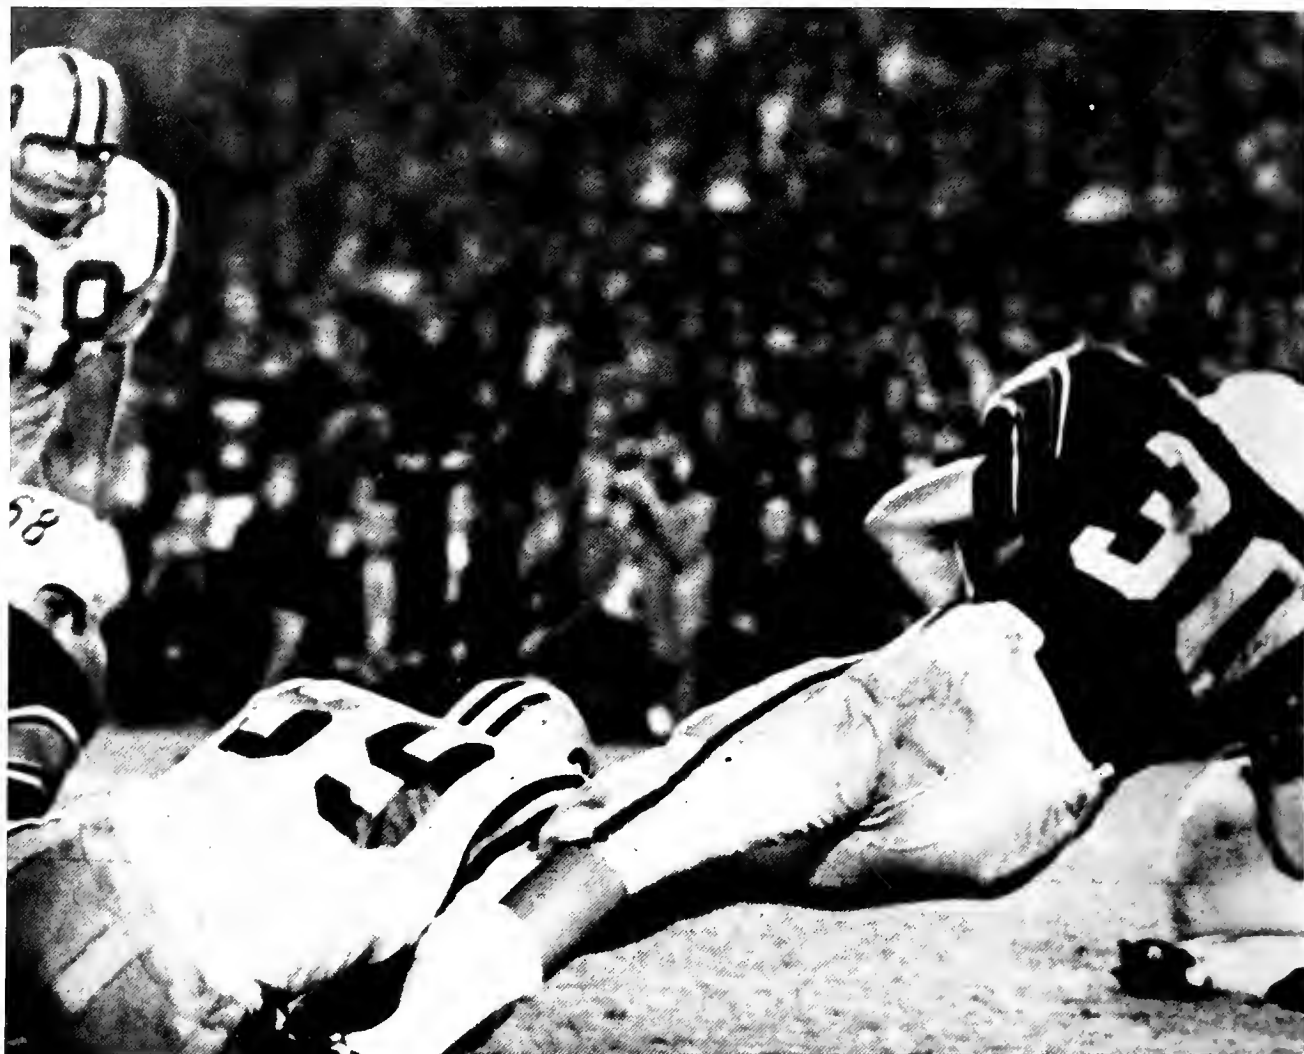

In the season's opener, Tulane dominated on offense and defense, defeating Virginia Tech 13-0, the only loss Liberty Bowl bound Tech suffered all year. Duhon threw a touch-down pass to Lanis O'Steen and Uwe Pontius kicked two field goals to account for the game's scoring.

The next week, the Green Wave took advantage of several Texas A&M mistakes to down the Aggies 21-13. Duhon scored two touchdowns on short runs and defensive lineman Vic Eumont recovered a fumble in the end zone for the other Green Wave score. A&M displayed a fine passing attack, but Tulane capitalized on the numerous Aggie mistakes throughout the game.

The Wave travelled next to Pa'o Alto where the Stanford Indians, led by Gene Washington and Dave Lewis, overwhelmed the Greenies 33-14. Lewis ran 90 yards from scrimmage in the first quarter and Bill Shoemaker kicked four field goals, including a 50- and a 40-yarder. Tulane's comeback attempt after being down 20-0 at the half featured touchdowns by Chuck Loftin and Mike Findley, but Washington's consistent gains on roll-outs and Shoemaker's toe kept the game out of reach.

Travelling to Virginia, the Green Wave crushed the favored Cavaliers 20-6. The Wave's defensive line, led by Vic Eumont and Schott Mumme, kept Virginia quarterback Bob Davis under constant pressure and long T.D. runs by Duhon and Trahan highlighted the victory.

Cincinnati was next to challenge and the Wave defeated the Bearcats 28-21 in an offensive battle. The Green Machine rolled up 387 yards on the ground. Pete Johns had the finest game of his career, rushing for 193 yards in 16 carries. Bobby Duhon also carried for over 100 yards and scored two touchdowns.

Two pass interceptions for touchdowns and a disputed call on another touchdown spelled the difference as nationally-ranked Georgia Tech knocked off Tulane 35-17 in Atlanta. Tech stars Kim King and Lenny Snow did little against the Greenie defense, but Tulane's offensive mistakes gave the Ramblin' Wrecks the advantage they needed.

Tulane then journeyed to Nashville where they had to come from behind in the second half to defeat Vanderbilt 13-12. The game, which was highlighted by two Duhon touchdown runs, was perhaps the Wave's poorest showing of the year, but, a glittering four quarter goal line stand preserved the victory.

The Green Wave, inspired by a large Homecoming crowd, played its finest game of the season against a tough Miami squad. The defensive team, particularly Don Capetz, Jim Jancik, and Ernie Parker, was outstanding in the 10-10 tie. A TD pass from sophomore quarterback Warren Bankston to sophomore end Nick Pizzolatto in the fourth quarter highlighted the offensive thrust and another fine goal-line stand late in the game averted defeat.

The Florida offense, led by Heisman Trophy winner Steve Spurrier, proved too much for the Green Wave as the Gators won 31-10. The game, played in intermittent rain, was close until the final quarter when two Florida TD's decided the contest.

In the season's finale, played before a record crowd in the Sugar Bowl, L.S.U. defeated Tulane 21-7. Sophomore halfback Trigger Allen scored all of the L.S.U. touchdowns in the disappointing climax to the successful first season of Coach Jim Pittman and the Tulane Green Wave.

The 1966 Baby Billow surged to two successive victories before bowing to the L.S.U. frosh 28-7 in Baton Rouge. Coming into the L.S.U. game, the Billow was undefeated, having blanked Marion Institute of Alabama 23-0 and scoring a victory over a tough Mississippi Southern frosh team, 22-14.

The Marion game showed a quick, well-drilled Tulane offense that rolled up 422 yards to only 165 by its opponents. Highlighting the game were Jim Yarter's 82-yard touchdown run in the first quarter and Bart Bookatz's 40-yard field goal. The Billow defense, led by Scott Haber, Kyle Huber, and Jerry Kuehn, time and again came up with clutch plays to whitewash Marion.

The Billow chalked up its second victory by whipping the Mississippi Southern team 22-14 in Hattiesburg. Tulane wracked up a 15-0 halftime lead and again managed to find the big plays that preserved their margin of victory. Derald Smith, a powerful fullback from Alexandria, broke the game in the third period when he scored on a 78-yard run from scrimmage.

The Baby Bengals left the Tulane team on the short end of a 28-7 score in the final game in Baton Rouge. In the third quarter, Maurice Gartman tallied the only Billow touchdown when he recovered a blocked L.S.U. punt in the end zone.

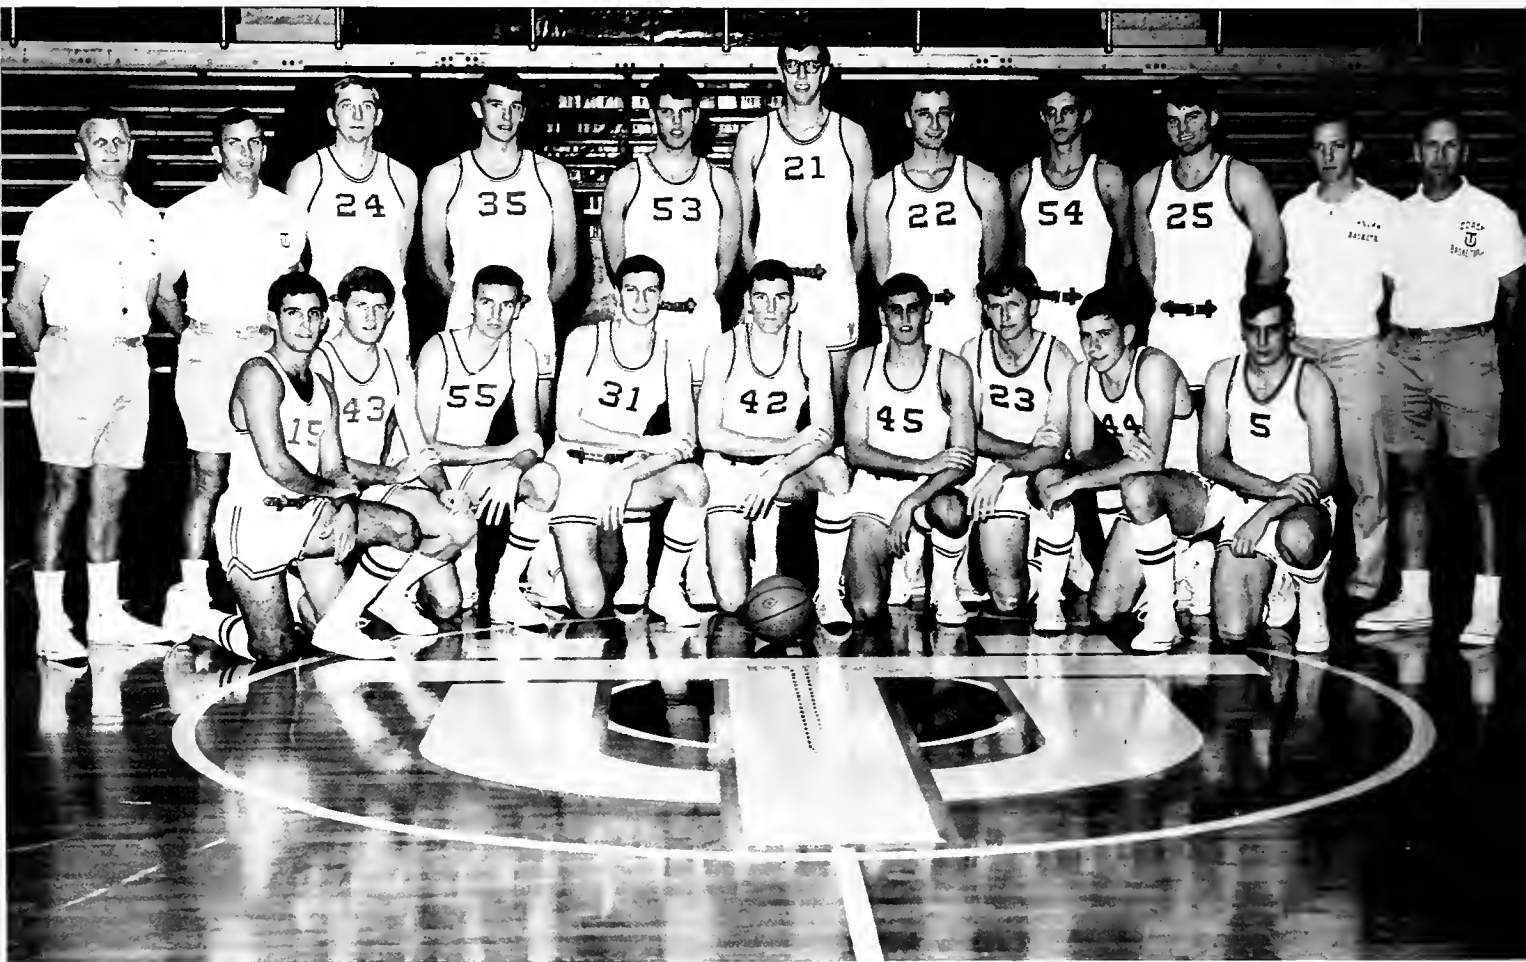

Lack of team work was the main factor in the Billow's loss to L.S.U. Several promising prospects including Mike Audirsch, Dennis Combs, Wayne Francinques, Haber, and Yarter, figure to play as regulars on next year's varsity squad.

The Green Wave basketball team, sparked by the fine backcourt play of sophomore Terry Habig and senior Al Andrews, opened the 1966-67 season with a 106-96 victory over Louisiana College. Later in the week Tulane was upset in overtime 104-102 by tiny Samford University. Andrews led all scorers with 31 points.

In their first road trip, the Greenies found North Carolina basketball too much to handle, losing to the University of North Carolina 92-69 and to North Carolina State 85-58. Sophomore Johnny Arthurs led the Wave against the Tarheels with 20 points and Habig's 19 points paced the attack against the Wolfpack.

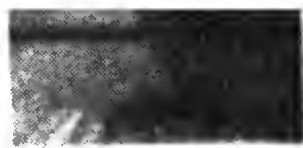

After a loss in Baton Rouge to LSU, the Wave cagers, paced by a phenomenal shooting display by Al Andrews, upset always-powerful Davidson 93-89. Tulane next played host to Northwestern and in a record-setting scoring battle lost 121-116. The next night the Green Wave failed to inch in on too many scoring opportunities and fell to eventual Big Ten champ Michigan State 76-66. The Green Wave hoopsters then traveled to Detroit for the Motor City Classic where they beat the host school 98-94 and lost to Miami of Ohio 87-52. Al Andrews and Johnny Arthurs were selected for the All-Tournament Squad.

After the Christmas break the Green Wave, revitalized by the installation of four sophomores in the starting line-up, rolled to five victories in a row. In these victories, 118-106 over Yale, 99-91 over Georgia Tech, 99-76 over Stetson, and 99-89 in revenge over LSU, Tulane hit a combined average of 57 per cent from the floor, lifting them into the ranks of the nation's ten best shooting quintets.

The Green Wave win streak ended with a 99-84 dumping by Purdue, but the Tulane five bounced back against NYU 96-87. NYU's All-American Mel Graham sank 36 points, but balanced scoring by Arthurs, Billy Fitzgerald, and Dan Moeser more than off-set his scoring spree.

Some questionable home-court refereeing combined with several hot hands dealt the cagers a double defeat to Florida State and to Florida Southern. In the 100-90 defeat to Florida State, Tulane had six players in double figures, led by Moeser's 20 points, but they could not defend themselves against guard Bill Gleen, who scored 30 points, or Dick Denford, who scored 22.

The Green Wave then returned home and knocked off Georgia Tech, rated by some experts as the best of the Southern independents teams, for the second time, and DePauw. In the DePauw contest the Green Wave set a school record by sinking 25 of 26 free throws.

Tulane then headed west to take on the Air Force Academy and Denver University. Al Andrews with 17 points and Dan Moeser with 16 led the attack in a come-from-behind 75-65 victory over the Air Force. The next night, Billy Fitzgerald's jump shot with five seconds remaining gave the Wave an 88-86 victory over Denver. Johnny Arthurs scored 24 points in the triumph and Fitz added 20.

The team closed out its season with a 68-64 victory over Chicago, led by Al Andrews' 19 points. Andrews, later selected the team's Most Valuable Player, became Tulane's second leading scorer in history. The squad's 14-10 record gave Coach Ralph Pederson his first winning season and Tulane its best record in ten years. With outstanding sophomores Johnny Arthurs, Terry Habig, Billy Fitzgerald and Bob Spurck returning with veterans Dan Moeser and Mitch Urbanski, Tulane should have one of the best basketball teams in the South next year.

The 1966-67 Tulane freshman basketball team finished its season with a 9-7 won-lost record. The Billow ran up an average of 85 points per game to their opponents' 75. Leading scorer for the Billow was Bob Patterson with an average of 18.2 points per game. Al Kralovansky and Greg Robers provided the rebounding power with 152 and 139 points respectively. Kralovansky was also tops in free throws, hitting 78.1% of his tries. Ned Reese handled the floor duties with 102 assists. Top reserves for the Billow were Steve Sullivan, Hugh Savage, Tom O'Brien, and Bob Garland.

The strength of this year's squad promises to provide steady support to the varsity in the upcoming season.

Two All-Southeastern Conference athletes return to lead the Tulane Baseball Team's bid to maintain its outstanding record of recent years. Mike Roos and Ronnie Scott, unanimous choices on the 1966 All-SEC squad, head a team which hopes to better the 1966 season record of 17 wins and 7 losses.

A strong crop of lettermen provide the basis for this year's enthusiasm. Roos and Scott, will have the aid of Larry Schneider, Vic Bonnafee, Bobby Duhon, Toby Walcott, and Steve Martin, spelling more of the hitting strength which characterized the final SEC season. John Dalton, Steve Costa, and promising sophomores Bill Fitzgerald and Johnny Arthurs buttress the defensive force. The pitching department is headed by veterans George Ditta, 1966 five-game winner, and Joe Born. Sophomore Donnie Simpson rounds out the mound staff.

The new independent role for Tulane teams, which has taken effect this year, has placed the baseball squad in a position to challenge the dominant independent team in the region, Florida State, in hopes to receive a bid to the regional NCAA Tournament. Former Coach Ben Abadie, who was forced into retirement by a serious back ailment, wisely scheduled Florida State and other outstanding teams such as Florida and Missouri, in order to qualify for this independent bid. Success or failure will depend primarily upon the outcome of these games.

The attempt to direct a winning team now rests with the new Green Wave mentor, Milton Retiff, captain of the 1955 squad. Coach Retiff, despite a late start, remains delighted with the talent he has inherited. In all, eleven lettermen return, captained by second baseman Dalton.

Loss of the services of pitchers John Olagues and Bob Darrah to the Cleveland Indians and New Yorks Yankees, respectively, has struck the hardest blow to the team's strength. Dave Flettrich, stand-out second sacker for the past three years, has also joined the professional ranks, having signed with the Atlanta Braves. Regardless of these losses, Tulane's baseball future remains exceedingly promising.

In the 1966 track season eleven school records were broken. With the aid of last year's impressive freshman, the varsity, captained by Jim McAleer and David Berg, is on its way to another very successful season. Already this year Gary Groff, a top sprinter and broad jumper, has placed fifth in the NCAA indoor meet with a jump of 24'2".

The two mile relay team, consisting of Bob Brown, Malcolm Meyer, Dicky Rogers, and Paul Arsuaga, has the potential of developing into one of the finest relay teams in the country. The sprint relay team, composed of Pete Johns, Groff, Rogers, and Arsuaga, placed fifth in the nation in the Freshman division and should add strength to the varsity. Barry Wax, Pat Glynn, and Howard Moore are the weight men and should have another fine season. Bobby Maynard will be doing the pole vaulting for Tulane this year. Coach John Oelkers is looking forward to a very successful year and hopes that two Freshmen, Rob Kelly and Gene Tomlin, will develop and fit into his future plans.

The 1967 Tulane golf team seems to be one of the strongest groups to have toured the Audubon links in several years. The nucleus of the team is comprised of returning lettermen Jim Thiel, Frank Wells, Wally Blessey, and Dick Rudolph, with strong support from the fine play of sophomores Jim Markel, Mac Miller, and Chuck Schwartz. Under the able tutelage of Coach Ines Millar, the Green Wave linksmen promise to have an outstanding season.

Soccer is quickly entering into the limelight as one of Tulane's more popular sports, although the innovation is less than five years old on this campus. The team began playing soccer whenever it could find a willing opponent. Presently, the club plays at least one game per week, and participates in a league which includes Loyola, SLC, USM, LSU, LSUNO, and USL. The team has also played non-leaguers such as naval cadets from British, French, and Norwegian ships, Eglin Air Force Base, Delgado, Germania, Honduras, and St. Teresa Seminary.

To be recognized by the NCAA is the goal most sought after by the club and the team's consistently high performance makes its future promising. NCAA recognition, however, will threaten the composition of the team, as many are foreign students or graduates and will be unable to participate in league games. But as for the future of soccer at Tulane, it is a good beginning.

Kneeling: Bill Dubin, Richard Peters, Lee Kantrow.

The Tulane tennis team engages a select field of opponents in its 1967 season. Replacing the annual SEC Championships on this year's schedule is the Rice Invitational Tournament where the Wave netters open their season.

The team has much experience and depth again this year despite the loss of Frank Lamothe, former SEC star. Returning are veterans Richard Carter, Richard Peters, and all-SEC Lee Kantrow. Carter and Peters are playing fine tennis, and Kantrow seems to have improved his potent forehand. Other team members include junior Mike Anderson, sophomores Pierce Kelley and Turner Howard, and freshman Gordon Traylor. Anderson's backhand, Kelley's speed, and Traylor's powerful serve should assure the team of a successful season. Howard presently ranks 27th in the United States. Added strength is provided by the forceful game of Bill Dubin.

The Tulane Sailing Club is one of the largest and most active clubs on campus. The Club, a member of the Inter-Collegiate Yacht Racing Association of North America, provides thorough training for its novice members and many sailing opportunities for its qualified skippers. The Club has one of the top sailing teams in the South, and last year finished fourth in the Inter-Collegiate North American Championships on Long Island Sound.

This year the Sailing Team has won the Southeastern Keelboat Championships and placed second in the Team Race Championships. With continued interest by its younger members, the team should again capture the SEISA Dinghy Championships this Spring and nail down a spot in the North American Championships in Long Beach, California, early in the summer.

Under the able coaching of Robert Watts, the Tulane Swim Team churned its way to a 6-2 season and 5th-place ranking in the Southern Intercollegiates. This was the best season the mermen have had since the start of intercollegiate swim at Tulane seven years ago.

The squad made a fine showing, led by senior standouts Paul Hebert, whose eight school records is the finest showing of any swimmer since John Jackson, Jr.; Robert Jourdan, team captain; Larry Curran, 1966 All-American; and Gwinn Murray. The team will miss these swimmers, but will still be aided by two-year lettermen Don Kearns, Robert Jumonville, sprint aces, and distance free-styler Michael Goldstein. Other aids will include sophomore stars John Rouquette, Allen Offner, and Gus McLain. The freshmen will also boost next year's squad with Robert Barber, Robert Bresnahan, and Peter Levine.

The reform constitution passed by the student body in the Spring of 1966 provided a shaky basis for the new Student Senate to try its wings. A mammoth body including representatives from housing units and colleges was elected in an unusually quiet election in the fall. Evidence of self-evolution within the governing document caused the first three-power conference ever to be known on this campus to consider the constitution. The aspect of students, faculty, and administrators working together on a common problem was termed by one professor "novel."

Senators fumed for weeks on the student body's first policy statement on discrimination. Finally they arrived at what was considered a compromise, but a major step in the right direction. The student welfare committee was perpetually in recess. The committee on academic affairs made up for the other's inactivity by having coffee meetings every week, at which everything from the theatre department to teacher evaluation were considered. Spring legislation is expected to center around attendance regulation revision and pass-fail grading systems. The senate came up with a major revision of the Who's Who selection procedure which was long overdue. There seemed to be a perpetual feud with the Graduate Student Association, which was active in activism and retained its membership in USNSA after everyone else jumped out. Finance Board underwrote everything from rock and roll shows to campus musicals, and put out untold sums of money for everyone who seemed to need it. This was the year of the soft touch.

Mr. Pederson, Mr. Morgan, Presley Jackson, Jeff Yudin, Sally Viner, Steve Zimmer, Jim Laughlin, Chairmen; Alan Wexler, Larry Rosenblum, Max van Gilder, Penny Hulse and Hank Harnage at an unscheduled Finance Board meeting.

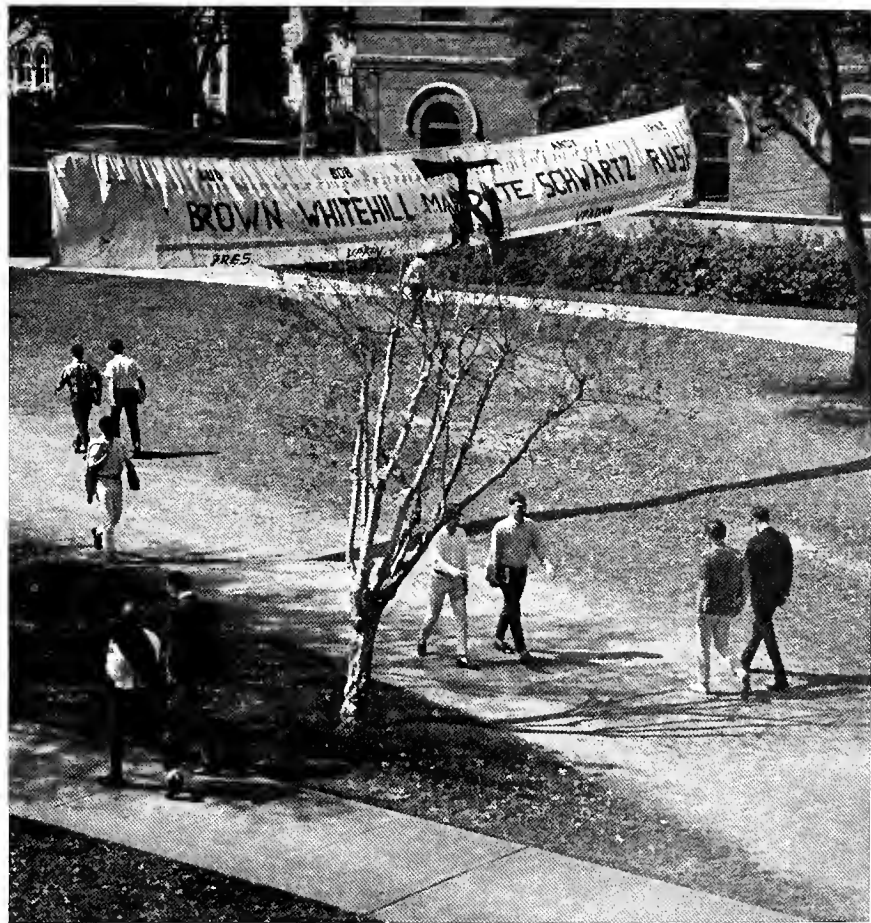

The executive officers were not idle. They gave an impetus to the growth of Project Opportunity that is hoped will continue to function in its vital role of upgrading the educational prowess of the city. As members of the Senate Committee on Student Affairs, they initiated student representation on the Calendar Committee, which is expected to be followed in the Spring by a general reevaluation of all university decision-making bodies for the appropriateness of students reps. They also opened the way for hoped-for reform of the conduct system, centering on due process for the student. The SBP even got off his motorcycle long enough to sign a letter to LBJ.

It was a ragged year, but a clean one. It was a sort of painful transition from the comfortable old shoes to the new arch-supports. It showed great promise, however. In the words of George Barlow, "In a few years we may not need a student government. That will be when the university ceases doing things to us, and for us, and starts doing things with us."

communications

To communicate is an art . . . Through these pages we communicate with those who continually communicate at Tulane . . . The Publications

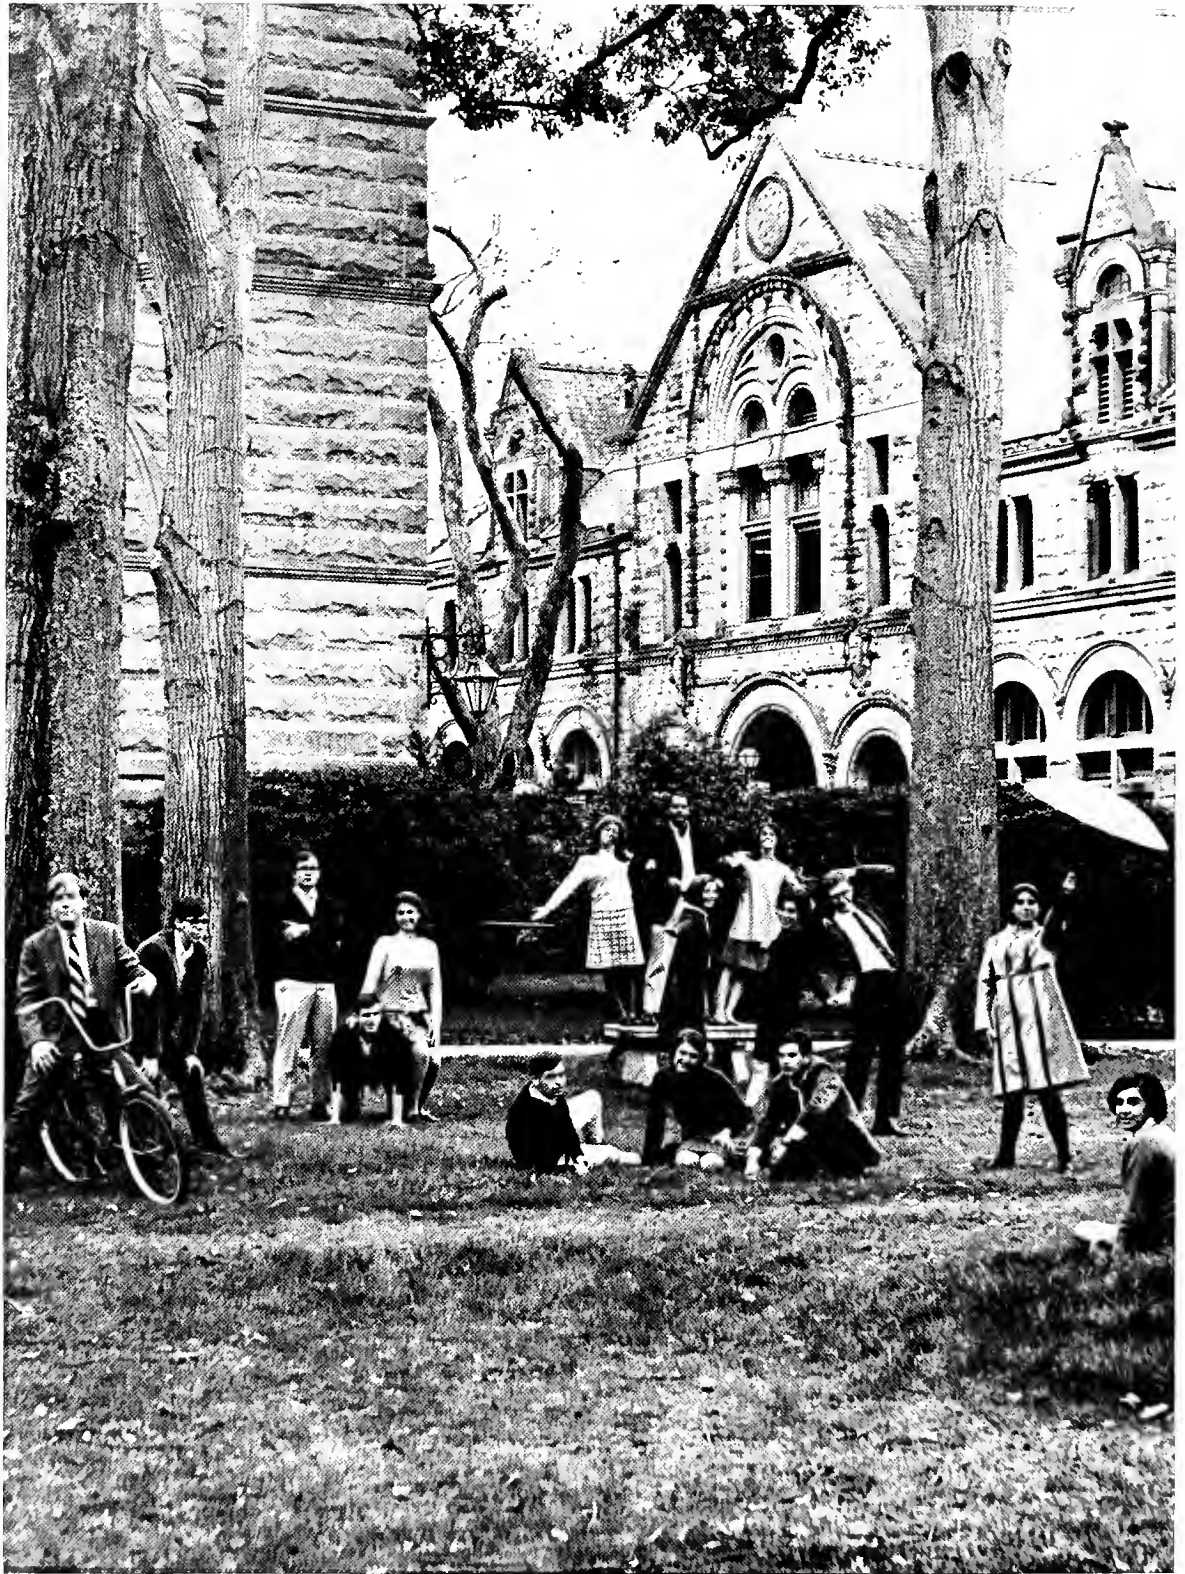

To communicate readers become necessity . . . to criticize, to acknowledge, to enjoy, to comment . . . the reader

To communicate the writer's mind and fingers combine to create, to analyze, to produce . . . the writer

The communicative man is a rather stagnant soul. At Tulane he hides in the basement of the UC, unless he specializes in Law or Drama or students' telephone numbers. There in the sanctuary of typewriters and tape recorders and badly unsharpened pencils and "On the Air" signs, the communication man has only one ambition: to create—to produce the printed or spoken word.

Presenting to the public a happening: The Jamb Staff, 1967.

Ode to the Jamb Staff: Someone up there likes us—what with strained deadlines and strained nerves, but more so, strained (so, so strained) ulcers.

JAMBALAYA

The trick to yearbook success is to live the year backwards. You know all the kids rushing to get the book so that they can see their picture under a club they went to once . . . for the picture. So they can have a picture of their favorite teachers . . . for voo-doo. So they can check out who is handsome and who is really as bad as everyone said. The only trouble, however, with a yearbook is that all is lived backwards. So that when you see your picture the summer has come and only you can compliment yourself. But maybe that's the success of the Jamb—it's being such a personal thing.

Sylvia Dreyfus, editor.

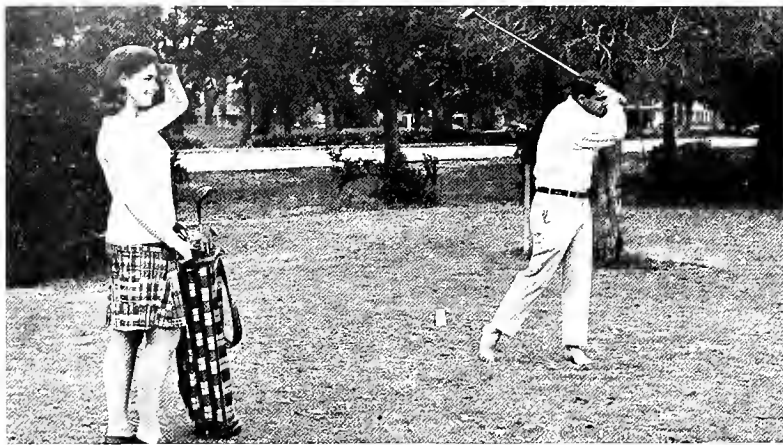

Editor and able-bodied assistant.

Woody Norwood, Classes Editor.

JAMBALAYA STAFF

Clem Goldberger, Head Jamb Caddy and Leadership Editor, smiles at Sports Editor John Freund's ball which hit rock bottom on the sixth tee.

Leading the pack, Jeff Laden, Military Editor, and Suzanne Maginnis, Editor of Organizations.

Diane Dallas, Administration Editor, and friend.

A. J. Friedman, Index Editor, shows his organizational balance at one of his busy staff meetings.

Somewhat lost are Dcuq Myers, Editor in Charge of Everything, and Al Childs, Feature Editor.

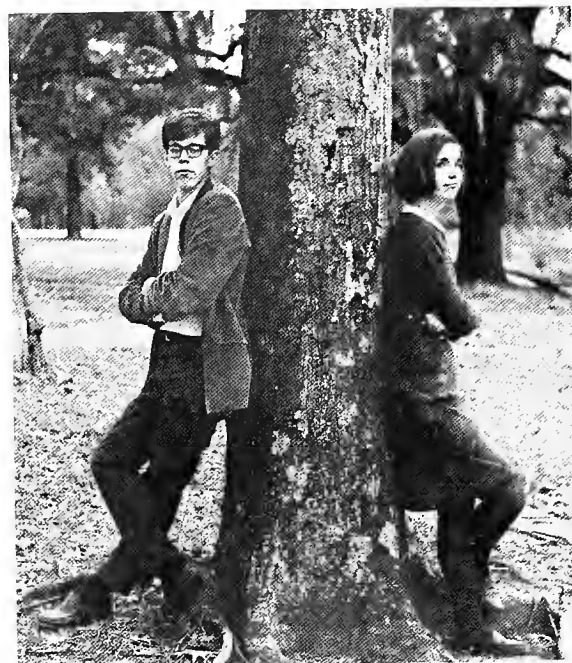

Jim DeWoody, Design Editor in charge of creative covers, holds up the world creatively.

Roommates of sorts view the fraternities of Broadway from a distance—Walt Griffin and Bob Silverberg, frat editors.

Handling the demonic ways of the sorority system are Babs Pollard, Editor, and Rachelle Galanti.

The court jesters: Arnold Shelby, Communications Editor, and Meq Burns, Beauty Editor.

Now you go tell him that if he wants his picture back, he should come get it himself.

Mild would be the Hulla in 1966-67 thought many with a female editor at the helm. Mild in editorial comment, mild in stands, mild through and through. But surprise said Vogel and promptly batted out a constructive, however critical editorial. She said to the golfing partners of Schulman, Shelby and Porter to hit the key-board with excellence. And added Howie's experience to boot. She sent for Melson from Europe and Egger from somewhere and they added the complementary touch necessary. So Surprise World: Vogel did it in 1967.

Andrea Vogel, Editor . . . Creative Journalism.

Paul Schulman, Feature Editor, goes over his weekly "Faculty Focus."

Grand Imperial Movie Critic Jeff Howie led the staff editors this year with "Letters to the Editor" comments against him.

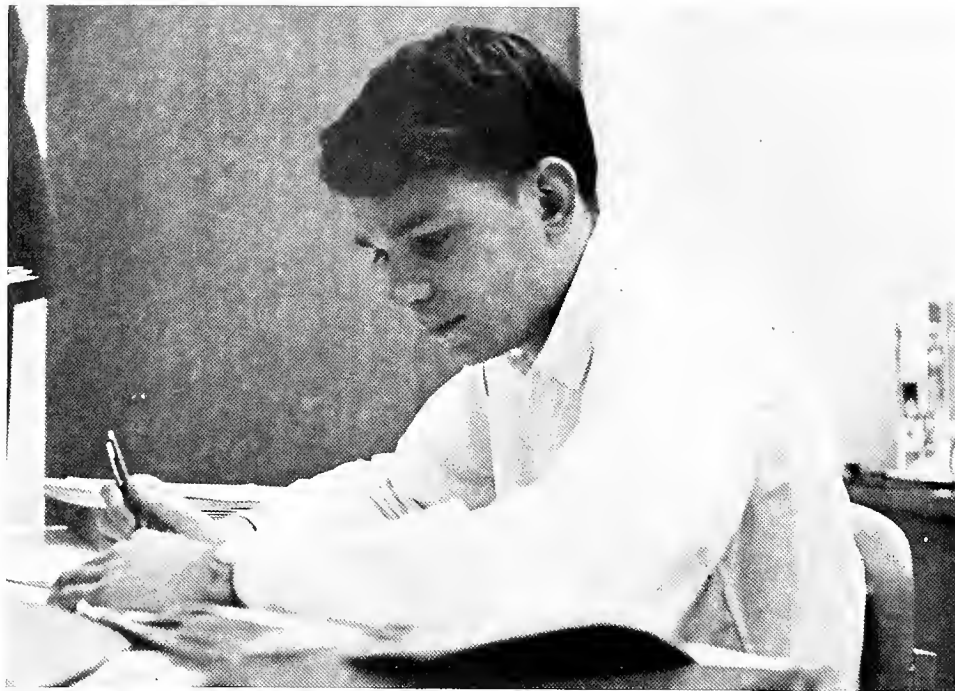

Making up a few quotes of his own is Jim Porter, News Editor.

Arnold Shelby looks as bleary-eyed as ever as he grins and bears his way through his Sports Editorship.

The bulk of the paper every year is made up of news, features, sports and entertainment. And thus the bulk of this year's work came from Jim Porter, Paul Schulman, Arnold Shelby and Jeff Howie.

Bruce Egqler, assistant managing editor and head telephone answerer.

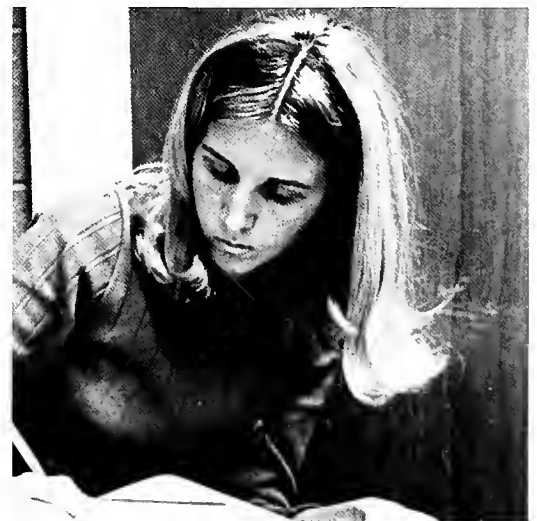

Suzanne Stamps, one year letterman.

The secret to the byline is the assignment. On the Hulla, Bruce Egqler, assistant managing editor, was the man to see for story assignments. A few of his staff writers are shown here.

John Fitch, two year letterman.

Barbara Edin, three year letterman.

hullabaloo

Bill Rushton, controversial columnist, in a pensive mood whips out another statement of value judgments.

Rodolfo Pastor, h., columnist, debates a column on the use of an arty suffix in one's name.

And 1920's revisited as J. B. walks on white hoofs.

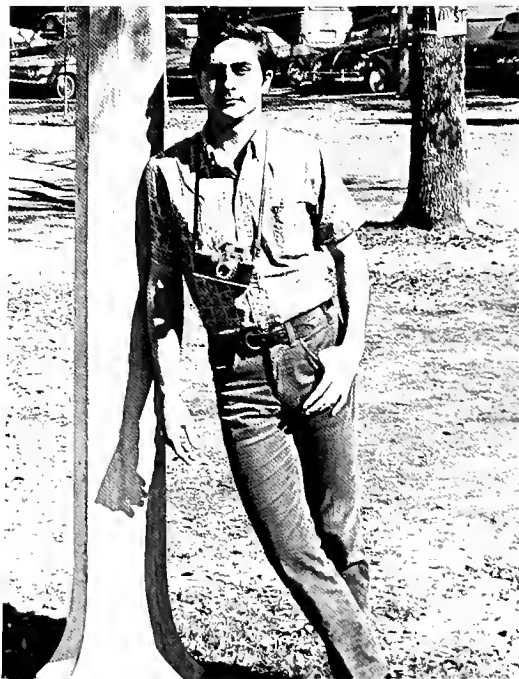

John Brown, head photographer, focuses on a charging rhino in quadrangle action.

If someone is needed in communication it is the visual communicator . . . the man who makes events or actions or happenings live forever by the press of a finger.

Larry Rosenblum, Business Manager for Publications, presents a Hullabaloo advertising suggestion.

Larry returns to his office only to find his phone ringing, his complaint department missing, his staple gun empty and his typewriter over-run.

business staff

As Business Manager of Publications, Larry Rosenblum is responsible for the money-matters of all Tulane publications. This involves dealing with hard-nosed retailers, over-worked printers, and irate Hullabaloo staff people who demand their pay-checks on time.

business staff

Circulation Manager Pete Aron unloads his car with the weekly Hullabaloos.

Drew Robins, Assistant Circulation Manager, keeps the files up to date and the subscriptions rolling out.

Assistant Business Manager Kal Shwartz sets up the ads for the Hullabaloo before layout.

This jolly bunch of fellows is TUL's executive staff. Top to bottom: Ron Scott, station manager; Jimmy Popham, program director; Brian Bruce, chief announcer; Dennis Kahane, continuity director; Roy Flukinger, production manager; Nelson Brown, public relations director; and, Bill Klinkenstein, advertising manager.

WTUL since September has expanded, enlarged, and increased to become the third leading radio station for Tulane students. The programming this year has been sparked with regular newscasts, day-long broadcasting, a new morning show and various other novel and new shows. The publication has stepped into its own this year as a well-recognized radio station.

WTUL

The WTUL News Staff.

The key to any radio station
the record file, its hand.

Self-proclaimed omnipotent-one Ron Scott looks over his glasses in the patented pose.

Although not elected formally by the Publications Board, Ron Scott stepped in early in the school year and proceeded to install pride in the staff members and new programming to the listening audience. Scott has rounded WTUL's programming to almost a 24-hour schedule.

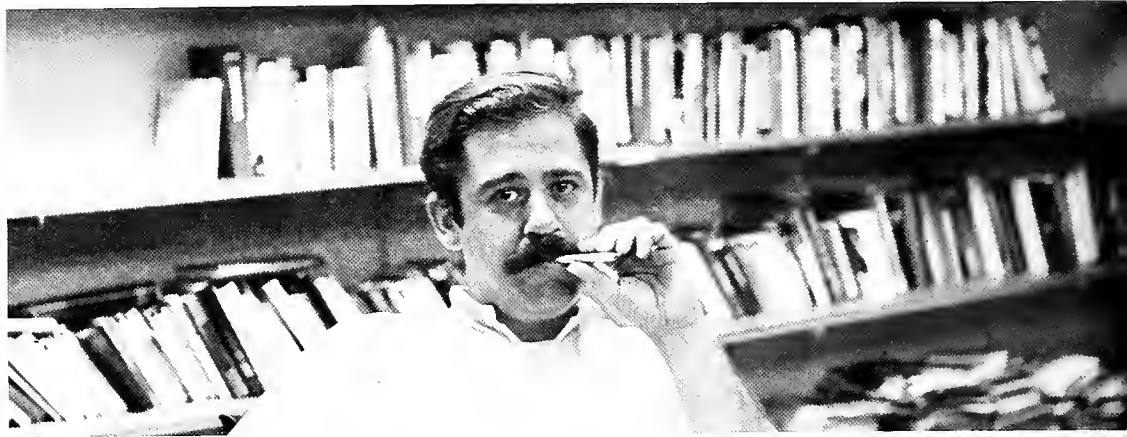

Robin Lindsey, chief copywriter, reads through a nightly news broadcast.

Ian Fletcher, a beginning broadcaster, is an example of the development program of the station.

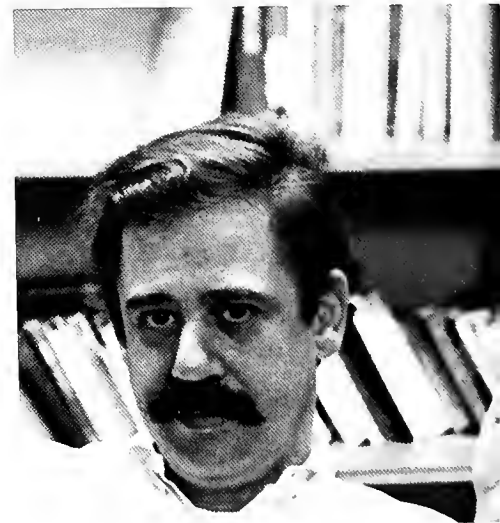

Today on "Person to Person" we enter the office of the noted editor of the Tulane Drama Review, Richard Schechner.

The Tulane Drama Review is the largest and most respected theatre magazine in the English language. It has subscribers in fifty states and forty-two foreign countries. Last year TDR received a three-year grant of fifty-seven thousand dollars from the Rockefeller Foundation, to enable the Review to encourage research in every aspect of the theatre.

The Tulane Law Review, a professional legal journal, is published quarterly by students and faculty members of the School of Law. The Review is the oldest of its kind in Louisiana and boasts an international circulation. It is devoted to the study of comparative law and civil law. The review publishes articles submitted by prominent members of the legal profession. The student section, written by members of the Student Board of Editors, deals with current legal problems. Honor students in the School of Law comprise the Student Board of Editors.

Dick Alderman, Editor, discovers that the best place to hide is on the 50-yard line.

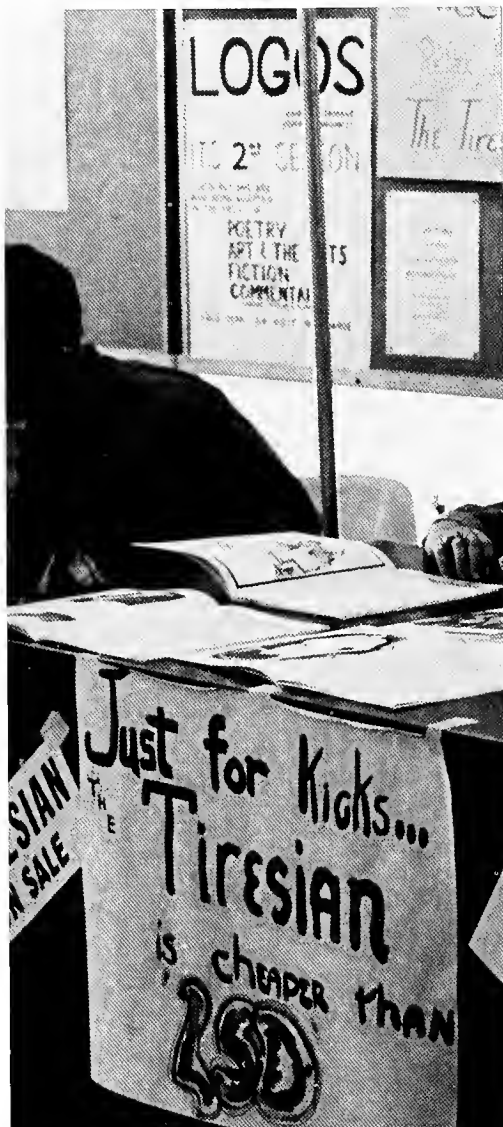

The Student Directory recovered from a printing problem with a revolutionary idea: the Quick Reference Campus Guide. This new concept aided the dorm students with speedy date-getting, note-getting, or everything else conceivable. The Directory as well retained such creditors of past year's as computerized printing, the Green Section, and organized advertisements.

Curtis Tatar, Business Manager, was hiding too, but the book finally came out.

Last year there were two magazines—The Tiresian and Logos. In one gigantic decision, the two combined.

And formed a staff: Judy Meyer, Art Editor; L. J. De Cuir, Political Editor; Bill Rushton, Format Editor; and Doug Birkhead, Associate Political Editor.

And selected an editor: Rudolfo Pastor, h. On then as an entity Sophia became the one literary magazine of the school.

newcomb panhellenic

As a member of the National Panhellenic Conference, Newcomb Panhellenic co-ordinates the activities of the nine national sororities on campus. The Council which is composed of three officers and two representatives from each sorority decides the regulations concerning rushing, pledging, and initiation. To encourage school spirit and scholarship Newcomb Panhellenic awards a trophy each year to the sorority which has accumulated the most number of points for participation in campus activities and scholastic endeavor. Along with this the New Orleans City Panhellenic awards a scholarship trophy to the sorority which has the highest scholastic rating.

Besides various campus activities Panhellenic has participated in charitable activities such as the March of Dimes. As a Christmas treat for underprivileged children, Panhellenic donated a block of seats for the presentation of a Christmas play.

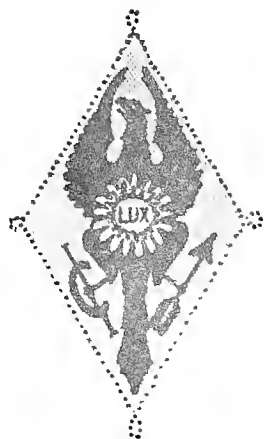

Throughout the year the Council strives to encourage a better relationship between member groups and the sororities and the university.

One of the activities that Panhellenic sponsors is Rush. In this picture girls are waiting impatiently to receive their bids.

chi phi colony

You mean he saw Neville and he still wants to pledge? . . . Chuck joined the Liberals Club? . . . Well, at least this time we finished half of the keg . . . We need forty men for a soccer squad . . . All right, gang, get on your crutches and HOLD THAT LINE! . . . Look, the casualty list is being posted . . . No, I will not drive to Belle Chasse . . . Quick, act like a girl—we need a date . . . Queen Mother? . . . All right, Max, give the kid his kite . . . Fine him for being in coat and tie . . . This is a softball, men . . . Did he say head of crayfish? . . . Father Downs will now deliver a sermon on the evils of drinking . . . Gee, is that a funny lookin' sand castle . . . Take off my what? Bruce has musically inclined toes . . . But John invited us, really . . . We have the strength of SAE because our hearts are pure . . . Call him collect, he's a fraternity brother . . . And now for our next miracle . . .!

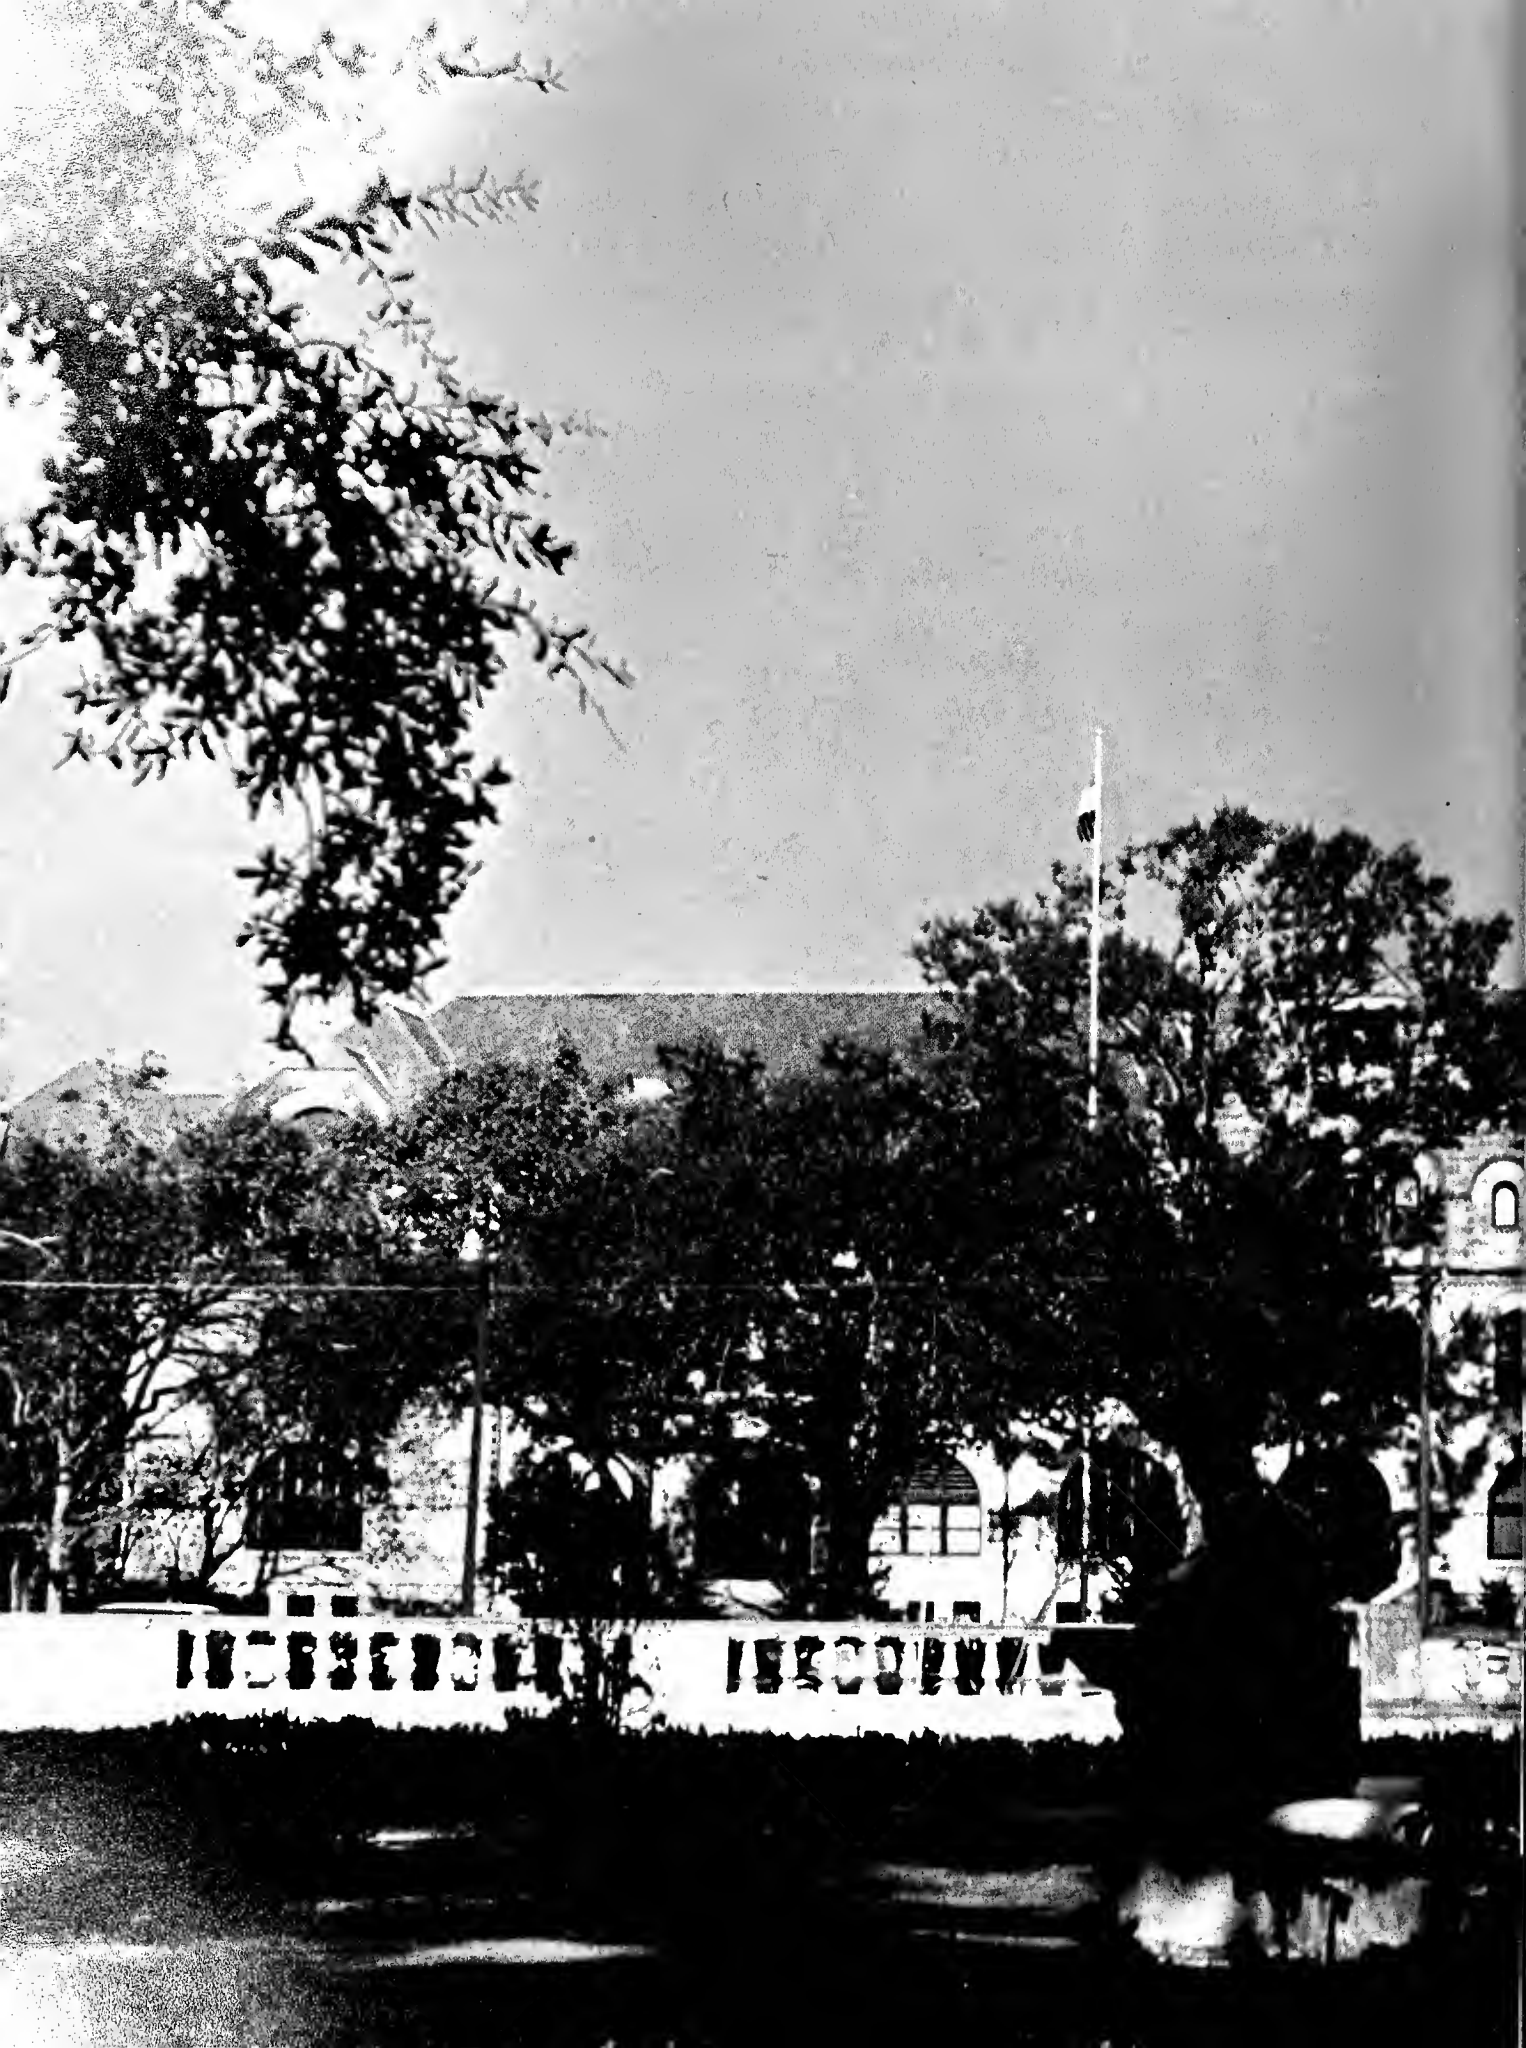

A dated Chi Phi gathering.

Y CENTER PROGRAM

The Cosmopolitan Committee under Larry Wright is the University's contact group with the International students at Tulane. The group's activities have ranged from smorgasbord feasts like Fete Internationale to international nights in the Rathskeller. In addition, the committee has sponsored a program which places an American "Buddy" with each new student to help acquaint him with American life and campus activities.

"Just offering the study-weary Tulanians some oood clean fu

"... but, I tell you, I love Negroes!"

"Two buttered what?!"

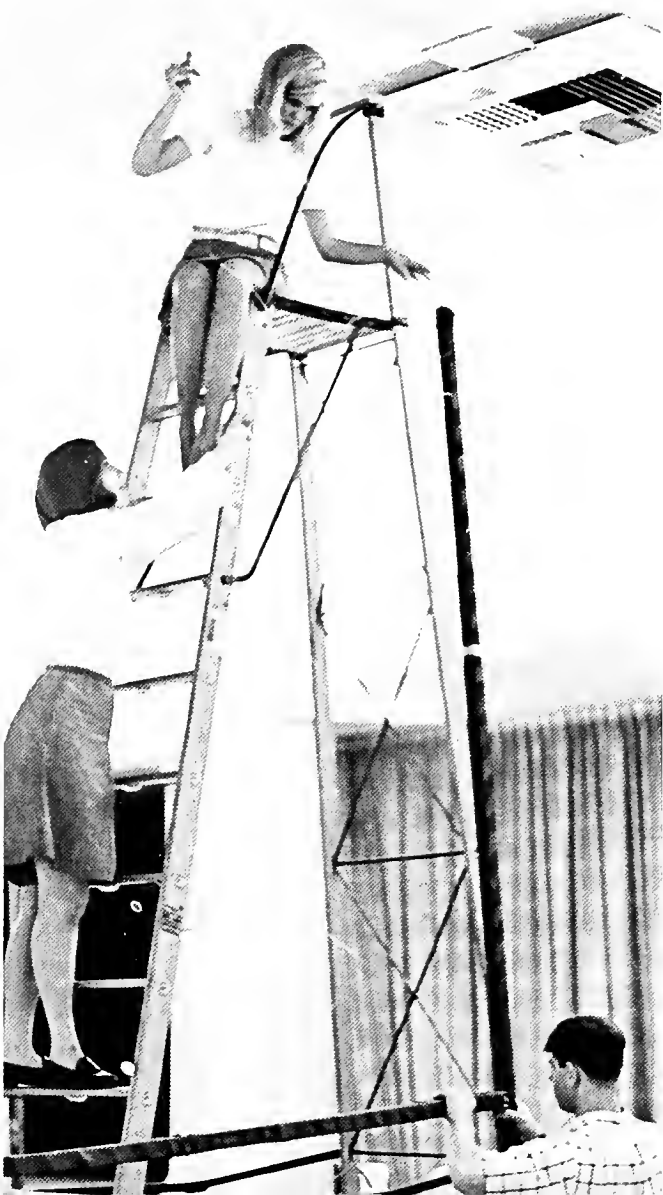

You'll wonder where the yellow went.

These two always go in for some kind of lagniappe.

What do you do with a full auditorium and no speaker?

Events which add a cultural flavor to the University Center program in the fields of film, literature, and the arts are presented by the Fine Arts Committee. Throughout the year, the committee under Norm Silber sponsored events such as the Fine Arts Film Series which features films from comedy to ballet. The committee also brings varied art displays to the campus which are shown on the mezzanine of the University Center.

To the Hospitality Committee falls the responsibility of making the students and visitors on campus feel at ease and welcome. The committee sponsors a weekly coffee with informal entertainment such as the Tulanians, the Young Singers from Guatemala, and Your Father's Moustache. Exam coffees are also held. Travel maps aid students in swapping rides home for the holidays, and also for exchanging rides to out of town football games. The committee members also sell tickets and usher for all University Center-sponsored programs and entertainment. The committee maintains the "for sale" board in the University Center for student convenience.

Lagniappes plans all University-sponsored dances, and began the year successfully with the largest Freshman Dance ever. Lagniappes also sponsored Spirit dances before every home game; most of the campus enjoyed Tulane's biggest and best Homecoming Dance, on the Steamer President, featuring Dionne Warwick. First semester ended with a "What Me Worry?" Dance to compensate for the weeks of hard study to come. Meg Burns, chairman, opened second semester with the Campus Lover Election and Dance, followed by a Basketball Spirit Dance, a Saint Patrick's Day TGIF, and other festivities.

U CENTER PROGRAM

"It'll be a quick ride home this year for Christmas."

"I've heard of holding up the fort, but this is ridiculous."

The Lyceum Committee's function is to provide the campus with big name speakers, outstanding lecturers, and to provide a forum where students may express their ideas on a wide range of local and national topics. Lyceum under Lenn Knapp has been especially active this past year. Major speakers included such men as Richard Nixon, Ray Sherer, John Ciardi, Hale Boggs, and Max Lerner. A Race Relations Series which included Leander Perez, and an Educational Forum was held by the local developments sub-committee of the Lyceum committee. The professor-exchange sub-committee compiled a list of professors who would be willing to lecture to other universities in the area. Free speech rallies were also sponsored throughout the year by the committee.

"Be careful, Mike, Meg's listening."

"Just preparing for another one of our small weekend parties!"

Tulane International.

The objective of the Padohad Committee is to publicize upcoming University events and holidays by means of banners and decorations in the Center. Padohad's new objectives of decorations and publicity have created a busy schedule for A. J. Friedman's committee. The theme for Hanging of the Green was "Christmas in Song". Also new and exciting was their "Final Fling" project. Publicity was especially heavy with banners telling of such events at Fete Internationale, the Lovin' Spoonful, and football games and other campus activities. Under the leadership of the Padohad Executive Board, the committee functioned efficiently and actively.

The Recreation Committee, as its name implies, has as its primary function to provide all types of recreational activities for Tulane students. This committee handles annual tournaments in billiards, bowling, tennis, chess, bridge, and the other sports. The sponsoring of vacation trips and tours is a further function of the Recreation Committee. In addition to its activities on the Tulane Campus, this committee led by chairman Sam Levy sponsors delegates to the Regional Association of College Unions tournaments and contests.

The Spotlighters Committee spotlights talent on the Tulane University campus. The committee chaired by Jean Cooper has provided such shows as the Christmas Night at Tulane, the Lovin' Spoonful, and the Grapes and Allan Show. In addition, the committee has set up and maintained the two music listening rooms in the Center. There were also second semester plans for a Bridal Style Show.

APO's purpose is to assemble college and university men in the fellowship of the Scout oath and law, to develop friendship, and to serve the school, community and nation. In its nearly 400 chapters college men of all races, religions, and creeds participate in APO activities. APO's many projects include an information booth at registration, Campus Carnival, and a Christmas project. It also serves as campus representative for the Red Cross, and is always a willing helper at various campus and community activities.

Circle K is a service organization similar to the Kiwanis but operating on the campus. It is both a leadership and character-building group serving the campus and community. Circle K extends an opportunity to students for joint as well as individual participation in activities concerned with betterment of the campus and community.

Circle K also sponsors social events from time to time. This year Tulane's chapter acted as host to the Circle K Regional Convention. Organized internationally in 1952, membership now exceeds 5,000 throughout the United States and Canada. Circle K came to Tulane in 1955.

Greenbackers is the official spirit organization on campus, and has attempted to instill a positive attitude among the members of the entire student body by its many lively activities on campus. In one of its most active years as a campus organization, Greenbackers has sponsored and planned the following activities: well-attended pep rallies, and bonfires before the Cincinnati and LSU football games; a Spirit Dance (with Lagniappes); team send-offs; decorations for the goal posts; half-time shows for basketball games; and "Player of the Week" for both major and minor sports, just to name a few!!!! In addition Greenbackers sold spirit hats, and the Newcomb pins.

The Barracuda Swim Club promotes interest in form swimming and pageant planning and sponsors the Newcomb Intramural Swimming Meet.

Tryouts are held every fall, and the membership is based on skill in performing basic strokes and special stunts. There are approximately twenty five members in the club, and they swim for several hours each week. The new members, or "Baby Barracudas", are initiated as full members only after participation in the annual spring water ballet held in the Monk Simons Memorial Pool.

The April show, which had as its theme "Colors", highlighted the activities for the year.

athletic council

Every girl of the Newcomb student body is a member of the Athletic Association. The Athletic Council, composed of officers and representatives from all the sororities and independent groups on campus, plans and supervises competitive sports, team and individual, for the Athletic Association. Tournaments held throughout the year include volleyball, ping-pong, badminton, basketball, swimming, and softball. For the first time this year, an all girls' bowling tournament has been held. Points are awarded to the winners of each of the tournaments, and accumulate toward the Athletic Trophy. The Council also organizes the Student-Faculty games in volleyball and softball, which are greatly enjoyed by both groups.

pre-law students association

The Tulane Pre-Law Students Association is in its first year as an organization on campus. Its purpose is to get students acquainted with the requirements needed for law school, and with the opportunities for law school graduates. Throughout the year, the group has had lectures, discussions and forums, and also documentary films. Some of the very successful speakers have included: Dean of Admissions at Tulane Law School; a Louisiana State Supreme Court Justice; and representatives from the F.B.I. and the New Orleans District Attorney's office. The year was climaxed by an annual banquet.

pre-medical society

The Pre-Medical Society acquaints all undergraduate pre-medical students with the many different fields of medicine and to each of the field's respective problems. The Society is made up of students who are planning careers in medicine, and it serves to present current medical trends to its membership about which the undergraduate pre-medical student might otherwise be unaware.

Devoted to various phases of medical education, the society has sponsored lectures on various topics, such as med-school admission and internship. This year's full schedule of programs was highlighted by a program on schizophrenia presented by Dr. Heath.

Oreades

Oreades is the Newcomb Honorary Classics group which meets throughout the year to promote an appreciation of the classics, to study the influence that classics have made on our life today, and also to sustain an interest in classical knowledge. The programs vary from fun ceremonies to interesting lectures like that of Mr. Shapiro. In December, Oreades celebrates the Roman pagan festival Saturnalia with Eta Sigma Phi.

Second semester each year, after initiation, the Club members have a luscious Roman Banquet which they prepare themselves. This banquet is usually held at the home of one of the members, and ends the year's activities.

La tertulia

La Tertulia, the Spanish honorary club at Newcomb College, promotes an understanding between the Spanish and American cultures, and maintains an active interest in the customs, literature, and art of Spain and South America. Meetings are held once each month, and the club's members converse in the Spanish language in an informal atmosphere, and present programs, such as lectures by Dr. Smither and Dr. Olivera. In addition, La Tertulia has a relationship with the Latin American Center at Loyola.

The annual activities include commemoration of Columbus Day, a Christmas fiesta, Pan American Day, and Cervantes Day. In addition, a Spanish banquet in a Mexican restaurant is held to inaugurate the new officers and members.

moot court

Law school training is incomplete without some experience in the practical presentation of a case in court. Ability in this phase of the work of the lawyer is obtained through the Moot Court program. The Moot Court at Tulane offers the qualified law student a chance to prepare and argue cases under actual courtroom conditions. For the purpose of the competition the student body in the two upper classes is divided into teams, or law firms, and the Justices of the Court are selected from these members on the basis of scholarship.

The high point of Moot Court competition occurs in the third year when the two teams surviving the elimination rounds are allowed to argue a case before the Supreme Court of the State of Louisiana.

The Inter-Faith Council serves as a channel of communications among all University-recognized religious organizations. The membership of the Council consists of two representatives from each religious organization and, in an advisory capacity, the campus clergymen. The main programs of the Council have included a religious orientation procedure in the fall, and the sponsoring of major religious speakers during the year.

The year's activities were highlighted by a lecture by Mr. Erwin Canhan, editor of the Christian Science Monitor and honorary delegate to the United Nations. In addition, the Council helped with the International Gift Bazaar.

ARNAUD'S—Selected the best restaurant of the South for the 2000th anniversary of the founding of the City of Paris.

Few are the people who set foot on the sidewalk of New Orleans who do not seek to learn the location of Arnaud's and forthwith journey there to enjoy this famous cuisine. After partaking of a notable meal, guests frequently ask the derivation of a particular dish: "Is it French?" "Is it Spanish?" The answer is that it is a combination of the wizardry of the French with the art of Spanish to make Arnaud's masterpieces.

Throughout the past year we've discovered, to our great gratification, (if we may speak so immodestly) that young men who know the best in traditional fashions are constantly coming to Maison Blanche for the types of clothing and accessories they prefer. We suggest that you, too, stop in next time you're down this way. You'll find that you'll be accumulating Extra Curricula points for the degree of being well dressed.

A WORD TO

College seniors and graduate students

You are on the threshold of one of the most exciting and important phases of your life . . . your career. Your reward for many hours of study will be a good position in your chosen field of endeavor. In other words, your future is unlimited. Why not protect it NOW?

PACE, Pan-American's College Estate plan, was designed just for you seniors and graduate students, to provide a fair amount of life insurance protection at an age when you benefit from lower rates. This is protection that will grow with you. And, we can guarantee that in future years we will sell you additional coverage regardless of health or occupational hazards.

Yes, we know you don't have funds enough to buy life insurance while in school. Most of us at Pan-American Life remember our undergraduate days when money was a scarce item. That's why we have built into the PACE plan a special deferred payment arrangement. It allows you to purchase a nominal amount of life insurance with the premium payment coming due after graduation, when you are located in that first big job.

There's a Pan-American agent near you. Why not give him a call, or write to our Special Plans Department in New Orleans for complete details of our unique PACE plan.
